The American home market is the richest trade prize in the wide world. For, under the protective policy, this has become incomparably the richest nation in the world. This has been brought about over the protests of the free traders, who have insisted on throwing open our markets to the exploitation of foreign producers. The free gift of this market, with the incidental sacrifice of the welfare of the American people, such as accompanied our two near free trade experiments in 1894 and 1914, is a donation to the world in general, including the powers we are now fighting, which no one has the slightest right to talk about making. The constitution of the United States reposes in Congress the right to enact our tariff laws. That right cannot be bartered away by treaty. And as for the statement that we are fighting in this war for the establishment of world-wide free trade, it is absolutely without justification and should fool no one, not even those who make it. We are in the war for, not against, the rights and interests of the American people. We are not in a war to establish our right to surrender our markets to invasion by foreign competition armed with a weapon of cheapness secured through the sacrifice of human values. We have had the right since the days of Washington and following Washington's example, we have declined to exercise it.—National Republican.

Uncle Sam has concluded to furnish an adequate amount of smoking tobacco in the daily rations of the soldier boys in France instead of having such articles contributed through private sources or forcing the men to buy such things under the item of luxuries.

Perhaps those of the "unco guid" will voice a protest on the ground that the soldiers ought to be prohibited from using tobacco. There are just such people in the U. S. A. It may be observed that they are not doing any of the fighting, and very little of the contributing, but they know how all these things ought to be done. They would measure the morals of all other men by their own distorted notions.

As a rule we believe, however, that the great mass of the people will say that if the boys want anything, they are entitled to have it. They have not manifested any inclination to over-indulgence in liquors. General Pershing says his men are models of temperance, giving the denial direct to reports started from some source that the soldiers were going to hell in a handbasket through the drink habit. To those who use the weed, it is a great solace and comfort in time of trouble, and if the soldiers want to smoke pipes or cigars or cigarettes, we believe the public verdict will be that they are entitled to do so.

A THOROUGH TEST

One to Convince the Most Skeptical Maysville Reader.

The test of time is the test that counts. Doan's Kidney Pills have made their reputation by effective action. The following case is typical. Maysville residents should be convinced.

The testimony is confirmed—the proof complete. Testimony like this cannot be ignored. Henry S. Gallenstein, blacksmith, 124 W. Third St., Maysville, says: "My kidneys were out of order and I had pains through my back. Doan's Kidney Pills put an entire stop to the pains and my kidneys became well." (Statement given January 9, 1912).

RESULTS THAT REMAIN

Over four years later, on November 14, 1916, Mr. Gallenstein said: "I haven't had any need of a kidney medicine since I last recommended Doan's Kidney Pills. The benefit they gave me has been permanent." Mr. Gallenstein is only one of many Maysville people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, the same that Mr. Gallenstein had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 60 cents at all stores. WOULD EXTEND CLOSED SEASONS ON MIGRATORY BIRDS

Washington—Slight changes in the regulations under the Migratory-Bird Law have been proposed by the United States Department of Agriculture in accordance with a resolution adopted at a recent meeting in Washington of the Migratory-Bird Law Advisory Board. The proposals have been published, and a period of three months is allowed during which the changes may be examined and considered before final adoption. The regulations are finally adopted will become effective on or after September 1, 1918.

Owing to the continued need of protection, it is proposed to extend to September 1, 1920, the closed season which would have expired September 1, 1918, on band-tailed pigeons; little brown, sandhill, and whooping cranes; wood duck, swans, curlews, yilliet and all shorebirds except the black-bellied and golden plovers, Wilson snipe or jacksnipe, woodcock, and the greater and lesser yellowlegs. It is also proposed to continue the closed seasons on rails in California and Vermont, and on black-bellied and golden plovers in California and Utah until September 1, 1920, and on woodcock in Illinois, Kentucky, and Missouri until October 1, 1920.

EGG CANDLING

Can You Tell a Bad Egg?—Federal and State Experts Will Show How It Is Done at E. L. Manchester Produce Co.

There will be an egg candling demonstration in Maysville on June 13, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m. at E. L. Manchester Produce Company.

Experts from the United States Department of Agriculture and the Kentucky State Food and Drug Department will show how to make an egg candler; how to candle eggs; and how to prevent spoilage. Better methods means better eggs and more money for them. It also means more food for our people and will help win the war.

To those who desire to do so, opportunity will be given to candle eggs themselves. Any person bringing eggs, not to exceed thirty dozen, may have them graded by the experts without charge.

Each one attending this meeting will be given, free of charge, valuable publications on egg handling, some of them illustrated with colored pictures.

If you raise poultry, sell or buy eggs you cannot afford to miss this demonstration. It is free and will never come to this town again.

Come yourself and invite your neighbor.

There will also be demonstrations at Cynthiana today and Flemingsburg tomorrow.

THE UNIFYING INFLUENCE OF THE WAR

"In my own mind I am convinced that not a hundred years of peace could have knitted this Nation together as this single year of war has knitted it together, and, better even than that if possible, it is knitting the world together. Look at the picture: In the center of the scene 4 nations engaged against the world, and at every point of vantage showing that they are seeking selfish aggrandizement; and against them 23 Governments representing the greater part of the population of the world, drawn together into a new sense of community of purpose, a new sense of unity of life." (From the President's Red Cross Speech.)

Sometimes a man blames it on the razor when he really needs a weed burner.

THEY GAVE HER VINOL AFTER SICKNESS

It Completely Restored Her Strength

Brooklyn, N. Y.—"Pneumonia left me weak and tired, with pains under my shoulder blades, a bad cough and no appetite. Five bottles of Vinol restored my strength and health. I gained in weight and my cough disappeared."—Mrs. B. Richter, 132 Menhant St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

This is because Vinol is a constitutional, cod liver and iron remedy which creates an appetite, aids digestion, enriches the blood and in this natural manner restores health and strength. Formula on every bottle. Show it to your doctor. He knows. John C. Peor Drug Co., Maysville, Ky., and at the best drug stores in every town and city in the country.

PRIVATE PEAT.

"Two Years in Hell and Back With a Smile."

Private Peat—two years on the Western Front, through the horrors of Ypres, long before the average war lecturer knew what war was, is back to tell us there are worse things than war. He was there when the Hun first used poison gas. He knows fighting in the trenches, the life and hardships and triumphs of the common soldier, and he knows how to tell about them. He brings a new idea in war lectures. He is inspirational, and he carries his listeners far above the field of battle to the thought of higher and better things. He brings a message of comfort to the mothers here at home, and no one is better able to bring cheer, for he comes back from his two years in hell with a smile.

Private Peat saw his whole company, ammunition gone, surrounded by Germans and captured. Shot through the chest, lying two days in the open, he was finally rescued and carried back to his own lines. His right lung is gone—his right arm is powerless. But he returns with a smile, a fine example of that high courage and good cheer which have carried the British soldier through these years of hell with never a cry of despair. He talks in deadly earnest, but there is also a fine humor and the spirit of youth and adventure in all he says. This young Canadian, with the blue honor shoulder straps of the First Canadian Contingent, is a needed tonic in a wealth of war speakers. As the New York Sun says: "He does the trick where others had only half succeeded."

Private Peat has written his own story, which you should read ("Private Peat," Bobbs-Merrill). But his lecture and his book are not the same. You should hear him, too. At Chautauqua second day.

IRVIN S. COBB.

To intimate that any American doesn't know Irvin S. Cobb, and hasn't read and chuckled over his Judge Priest stories, his intimate essays on human anatomy, and his never-to-be-forgotten "Speaking of Operations," is to reflect upon that American's patriotism. For "Old Irv Cobb," as he is affectionately known down New York way, is a national institution, like pumpkin pie, Fourth of July and baseball. Now the Chautauqua is to perform a real service to folks in this community by permitting his every word to be heard Mr. Cobb in person, with the biggest subject he has ever written or talked about, "My Recent Experience on the Fighting Front in France and Flanders."

Mr. Cobb is coming to the Chautauqua fresh from a trip to the Western Front, where he has been reporting the latest developments of the war for the Saturday Evening Post. It will be recalled that his articles on the events in Belgium, following the outbreak of hostilities, evoked the widest interest of any articles written at that time, and established him as the greatest war reporter of the present day.

Irvin S. Cobb is today the keenest observer now writing in America. He has the surest insight and the quickest perception of salient characteristics of any American writer since Mark Twain. He will give Chautauquans the tragedy of war, but it is impossible for Cobb to hide a humor which is effervescent and unending, and his story will be spiced with laughs.

THE AMERICAN'S DUTY

The main duty of noncombatant Americans briefly may be stated as follows: Increase production, economize in consumption, lend your savings to the Government, and hold your Liberty Bonds.

And our observation is that when a woman is raising five or six children she hardly ever keeps a diary.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Catarrh being greatly influenced by constitutional conditions requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine is taken internally and acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative powers of Hall's Catarrh Medicine that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. A Prominent Manufacturer Wouldn't Sell His Pianista for Double the Price Paid for It If He Couldn't Get Another

All that scientific knowledge and experience could condense into the production of an economic, dependable, always playable, handsome player piano, was combined and put into

THE PIANISTA MODEL

With the Wonderful Ukulele Attachment

by the Autopiano Company, one of the pioneer builders of Player Pianos. You can play the Pianista in the ordinary way, and daughter can take her music lessons on it. If a clever device the Piano is opened, exposing the Music Roll and Treble, then father, mother or any of the family can use it as a player piano, thereby enjoying their favorite music—anything they may choose.

When the occasion calls for something different in music, turn a convenient little lever, and the result: PERFECT UKULELE MUSIC. The Player and Ukulele combined produce the most pleasing airs and effects—a popular home entertainer. BEAR IN MIND that all Pianistas are equipped with the Autopiano Company's very ingenious and successful patented "Automatic Tracking Device." No matter if the Music Rolls swell or shrink—which they all do—THIS Tracker automatically causes the rolls to reproduce correctly, with almost human intelligence.

There are other advantages to numerous to mention which you will readily appreciate when you make us a personal call to see and hear the Pianista.

On last week a prominent manufacturer who purchased a Pianista of Steinway & Sons, who told the writer of this announcement that if he could not buy another like it, he would not take double the price paid for his. Name and address given to any one interested.

The only reason why you haven't decided to send a Pianista with the wonderful Ukulele attachment home is because you haven't heard it.
